DAYSTAR

written by Terry Parks

There is a daystar shining bright

Its glory streams all through the night

So strong, so clear, that it crowns the dawn

When morning comes it lingers on

Jesus, my Lord, the true Daystar

The Son of God, that's Who You are

You died and rose, and conquered the night

Hope of the world

Eternal light

Reflecting You, my true Daystar

I'll show this dark world Who You are

I'll rise and soar where the eagles fly

And someday meet You in the sky

I'll rise and soar where the eagles fly

And someday meet You in the sky

Daystar

You are the Daystar
